

CPP & FPC Online Study Group

WWW.CPPFPCSTUDYGROUP.COM

December 17, 2010

Dear Prospective Study Group Member,

We are so happy that you decided to follow so many other professionals and have taken the next step in achieving your certification. From 2003 through 2010, we have had hundreds of students participate in our online study group (OSG). Of those students, more than 200 sat for the CPP exam, and more than 170 of those passed with an average passing score of 341. In our study group, the chat room is our classroom with the same classroom-style structure. We have pop quizzes and homework, and students are even known to be "called on." Students still have the freedom of meeting with other students and CPPs, but this is done from the comfort of their own homes.

We now have the exciting opportunity to sponsor several grants each year; the winners receive payment for their CPP exam. The success of the Online Study Group comes solely from the desire of the students to advance in their education and career growth. Our passion to see you succeed, along with that of the CPP instructors, and the officers of the Cordova First National Chapter, contributes to this success. It is such a great reward to see class participants receive the motivation and educational tools necessary to help them advance professionally.

The OSG is a great way to help you stay organized and on a schedule while studying for your FPC or CPP exam. As a part of your paid membership, you will receive updated files for each chapter (e.g. chapter summaries, quizzes, tips), one KAC exam to help you prepare for the actual exam during the review period, weekly organized meetings available on more than one night which are conducted by a CPP and a group of peers (both other students and other professionals who are already CPP's) who will encourage you when you need to be encouraged and challenge you when you need to be challenged.

Once we have received both your registration form and your payment (via pay pal or check mailed to the address below) we will add you to the OSG email list and send you more information regarding your participation in the study group. We look forward to working with you to reach your certification goal.

Sincerely,

Dusty A. Dixon, CPP, MOS

Online Study Group Founder and Administrator
President, Cordova First National Chapter

Raeann Hofkin, CPP

Online Study Group Founder and Administrator
Vice-President, Cordova First National Chapter